VORUS-ROSENBERG WEDDING.

One of the most notable events to occur in Palatka society for some time was the wedding at St. Mark's Episcopal church on Tuesday, April 25th, of Miss Estan Rosenberg of this city to Mr. DeWitt Clinton Vorus of Atlanta, Georgia. The invitations announced the ceremony for one o'clock p. m., but long before that hour the ushers were busy seating the immense throng of friends who gathered. The church was elaborately decorated with evergreens and beautiful flowers. The wedding bell was covered with white rhyospermum, or Confederate jasmimine, the clapper being made of a single creamy white magnolia bud.

From 12:30 to one o'clock Mrs. Geo. B. Selden, St. Mark's gifted organist, rendered exquisitely the following

ORGAN PROGRAM:
1. Hallelujah Chorus.—Handel.
2. Andante.—Symphony in C Major, Schubert.
3. March—Athalie—Mendelssohn.
4. Song to the Evening Star—Wagner.
5. March Pontificale—Gounod.
6. Serenata—Moszkowski.
7. Pilgrim's Chorus—Wagner.
8. Chorus from Rienzi—Wagner.
9. Chant—Raff.
10. Gloria—from the 12th Mass—Mozart.
Bridal Song—Lohengrin—Wagner.
Call Me Thine Own—Haley.
March from Tannhauser—Wagner.

Promptly at one o'clock the magnificent strains of the Lohengrin "Bridal Song" pealed forth, and the bridal party entered. First came the ushers, Messrs J. H. Haughton, A. S. Willard and R. Raymond Price; then the ribbon bearers, Miss Lucile Kennerly and Master Almon Rosenberg, who closed all entrances to the main aisle with their yards of white satin ribbon. Then the pillow bearers, the two handsome little cousins of the bride, Masters Henry and Richard Dunn of Jacksonville. Following them came the flower girl, little Miss Margaret Willard. And then the bridesmaid, Miss Edith Hazel Vorus, Miss Edna Crill, Mr. Joseph R. Dunn Mr. Harvey Mobley, Miss Elise Ellwood, Miss Maude Kennerly, Mr. Walter Hilliard, Mr. Joseph Price, Miss Blanche Crill, Miss Edith Merrill, Miss David Ramsaur, Mr. R. N. Calhoun.

The maid of honor, Miss Jenn Ellwood of DeKalb, Ill., preceded the bride, who entered leaning on the arm of her father. The groom and his best man coming through the vestry room and the party at the foot of the chancel steps, where part of the ceremony took place. The bride and groom then stepped forward and knelt at the altar rail, where the service was completed. Meanwhile the softly modulated strains of "Hallelujah Chorus" played by Mrs. Selden, added much to the beauty of the service. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. F. H. Richey, in a most impressive manner. All present feeling keenly the solemnity and sacredness of the vows being taken.

As the party turned to leave the church, the march from Tannhauser, swelled forth, the little flower girl preceded the newly wedded pair strewn rose petals in their path. The ribbon bearers came last winding in the ribbons.

The party returned at once to the home of the bride's parents, where an informal reception was held giving the most intimate friends and relatives a chance to offer their congratulations. The bride stood under a gracefully draped canopy of her mother's wedding veil and flowers. She was exquisitely gowned in white messaline silk, with bertha and trimmings of hand-made lace. Her veil of tulle was caught up with lilacs of the valley, and she wore also a small cluster of natural orange blossoms. Her ornaments were pearl heirlooms in the family.

Her bouquet of white carnations was tied with long streamers of white mauline. The maid of honor wore white silk batiste with lace trimmings, a picture hat of white lace and lilacs, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with pink mauline.

The bridesmaids all wore white batiste with lace trimmings, and carried bouquets of beautiful clusters of Florida's queen flower, the magnolia blossom, tied with white mauline. The little pillow bearers were dressed in white, as was also Master Almon Rosenberg. Miss Lucile Kennerly wore white batiste with lace trimmings, and large white hat of lace. Little Miss Margaret Willard presented a dainty appearance in accordion plaited white silk, with poke bonnet of white mauline, and carrying a basket of roses tied with streamers of white mauline. Mrs. Rosenberg, mother of the bride, wore champagne voile, with silk and lace trimmings. The gentlemen of the party were all garbed in conventional black. The house was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers. The dining room being entirely in pink azalias. The verandas were closed in and made lovely with greens and potted plants. Here the bride's attendants grouped themselves.

Mrs. Rosenberg was assisted in receiving her guests by Messdames Meek, Dunn, Baines, Ellwood, Kennerly, Cochran, Haughton, Lane and Willard. Misses Rosa Cox and Linogen Fearnside presided gracefully at the punch bowl.

The presents received by the newly wedded pair were both numerous and handsome. After the reception a more elaborate luncheon was served to the bridal party.

Miss Rosenberg is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Rosenberg, old citizens of Palatka, a charming and popular girl always with both young and old. And it is with regret her many friends here see her leave this, the home of her nativity. Mr. Vorus is a progressive young business man of Atlanta, Ga., of genial manner and sterling qualities. Palatka feels he is to be congratulated on having won one of her fairest daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Vorus left on the East Coast Railway at 4:10 p. m., amid a shower of rice and good wishes, for their future home in Atlanta.

The out of town guests who came to attend the wedding were: Miss Hazel Vorus, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Wm. L. Ellwood and daughters, Miss Jean and Elise, of DeKalb, Ill.; Mr. Richard Baines, Mrs. Meta Meek, Savannah, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. R. Dunn and family, Jacksonville; Mrs. Marshal W. Stewart, Jacksonville; Mrs. Fredrick C. Cochran, Welaka; Mrs. Tod Dodson, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Harvey Mobley, Hot Springs, Ark.; Mr. Wilfred Knapp, Savannah, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Forward, Mrs. Frank Taylor, and Mrs. W. W. Snow of St. Augustine.

Dangers of Defective Plumbing.

Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs of contagious diseases to which the human system readily succumbs.

Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the home and enters the apartments through defective fixtures.

If in doubt, consult us regarding the piping and replacing defective fixtures with "Standard" Porcelain Enamelled Ware—acknowledged as the best sanitary equipment.
